Little by little Royal II was seen to push forward, and at the final sixteenth pole was in a commanding position and won, hand ridden, by a scant length from the tiring Tetan, who was the same distance ahead of Dortch.

The day was fair, the track was fast and the crowd was probably the largest that ever wended its way through the Latonia gates.

Royal II was favorite in the betting, with Emeron Cochran a second choice. The latter was never a serious contender after the first half mile and finished last. Tetan, an outsider in the betting, was reported to have been withdrawn early in the day, but Owner W. Perkins decided to start him at the last moment, and the horse paid $22.30 for a two-dollar ticket for show. Dortch paid $4.80 for a two-dollar ticket for show.

NOTES OF HAPPENINGS IN TERMINAL LEAGUE

Joe Hurney's Station team has ex perienced more than its share of hard luck this season. Tommie Thompson of the Station team evidently will be unable to pitch any this season. He went south with the Georgetown base ball team this spring and got into several early games, which severely taxed his arm, owing to the cold weather. Ever since he has been unable to use his arm to any extent for pitching purposes. Manager Hurney sent him in against the Auditors last week, but he was wild as ever, walking eight men.

BROOKLYN PITCHERS EASY. Cincinnati Has No Trouble Winning

With Lear's Good Twirling.

CINCINNATI, June 12 .-- Brooklyn's pitchers were easy today and Cincinnati had no trouble winning, 8 to 1. On the other hand, Lear had the Brooklyn batters at his mercy, especially with men on bases. Killifer's batting and fielding contributed largely to Cincinnati's victory

Manager C. W. Dilli of the Auditors is the youngest manager in the league and has the youngest team. He has handled his club with great skill thus far and looks like a bennant winner. Dilli's outfit is not only imbued with the old pep, but it has the never-sayde spirit with a vengeance, and has established a reputation for coming from behind in the closing innings.

Dailey, shortstop for Southern, had a bad day hast Tuesday against Station, making three errors out of six chances. It is not often that Dailey plays so poorly, as he is a splendid athlete and one of the best fielders in the circuit.

Kehl, center fielder for the Car Department team, had a busy day against the Southern General Office team Monday, nabbing six files and having one assist. Kehl is a big youngester over aix feet.

If Manager Griffith finds it necessary to look for a successor to Chic Gandil, as it seemed early this spring, he will have to look elsewhere than to Minneapolis, where Carl Cashion was holding forth this spring and giving every promise.

The chances are Griffith won't need any one for that position, for it is now being very competently filled by Gandil, who when in form is perhaps the best first baseman in the American League.

But so far as Cashion is concerned, he not only has been benched and his place taken by Autery of St Paul, but there is a report from out that way that the big fellow's arm is in a very bad way and that this, more than anything else, is the cause of his being benched by Cantillon. If that is the case, Cashion probably will have a hard time holding on. He injured his arm last year while with Montreal and was let out, and if there is a return of that trouble he is probably through with trouble he is probably through with base ball.

TETAN IN SECOND PLACE By J. ED GRILLO. Track Fast and Crowd the Largest

Aside from his wonderful ability as a player, there is much to admire about Hans Wagner. During his entire career Wagner has never had a run-in with an umpire. He has never criticised another player, and, in fact, he has made very few comments about anything, preferring to attend to his own business on all occasions. Wagner has been a credit to the game, and that is why his popularity has never been on the wane. He has been a competent and loyal athlete, and the day that he retires will be regretted by all true lovers of the sport. That is a lot more than can be said of some of the other stars who have been developed in base ball.

There have been many hall games ever produced, but he still has a lot to learn about entertaining his readers.

There is not the slightest doubt about Clarence Rowland, the manager of the Chicago White Sox, knowing base ball thoroughly. He is an intelligent fellow, who has made the game a study for many years and ought to be perfectly competent to manage a team in any company. It is no reflection on Rowland that he was in the minor leagues for many years, because that sort of a stay often is enforced by conditions. Had it been a matter of personal choice, there is no doubt that Rowland, like most any other man, would have been up in the big show long ago. But the fact that he remain-

It is said in Minneapolis that Joe Cantillon is to try Carl Cashion out as a pitcher. Ingersoil is under the weather and Pongo now has only three pitchers fit for service, Harper, Yingling and Mutt Williams. Cashion was a pitcher at Washington, but never threatened Walter Johnson's laurels while working for Griffith. In the last series between the Millers and Saints, Cashion, at first, could not throw the ball to third base, and his arm must have made a quick recovery if he is in shape to pitch, and it is just St. Paul's luck that big Carl is to try his hand at mound work while the Millers are several hundred miles from Lexington and Nicollet parks. The Kelleyites would be delighted to welcome Mr. Cashion into the ranks of pitchers who have lasted quick.
